

Nomination Letter for Angela Holtry: "I Love Teaching" Award

Introduction

It is with great pleasure that I submit this nomination letter for Angela Holtry, an exceptional math teacher, for the prestigious "I Love Teaching" award. Angela's dedication, passion, and commitment to education make her an outstanding candidate for this recognition.

Contributions as a Math Teacher

Angela has been an integral part of our school community, consistently demonstrating a deep understanding of mathematical concepts and a unique ability to convey complex ideas in an engaging and accessible manner. Her teaching practices are centered around creating a supportive and inclusive learning environment, where students feel encouraged to explore, question, and learn. Angela's expertise in math education has not only improved student outcomes but has also inspired a love for mathematics among her students.

Leadership Roles

Throughout her tenure, Angela has taken on various leadership roles, including department head, curriculum developer, and mentor to new teachers. Her exceptional leadership skills, coupled with her willingness to collaborate and share her expertise, have been instrumental in shaping the school's math curriculum and instructional practices. Angela's ability to build strong relationships with colleagues, students, and parents has fostered a sense of community and cooperation, making her an invaluable asset to our school. Currently she is serving on our PBIS development and implementation team.

Positive Attitude and Willingness to Serve

Angela's positive attitude and enthusiasm for teaching are contagious, and her love for education is evident in everything she does. She is always willing to lend a helping hand, whether it's supporting a colleague, advising a student, or participating in school-wide initiatives. Angela's selflessness, kindness, and generosity of spirit have created a ripple effect, inspiring others to follow her example and strive for excellence.

Commitment to Innovative Teaching Practices and Reflection

Angela is a forward-thinking educator who is committed to staying current with best practices in math education. She regularly attends professional development workshops, participates in educational conferences, and engages in reflective practices to continually improve her teaching. Angela's commitment to innovation and reflection has led to the development of novel lesson plans, innovative assessments, and effective strategies for differentiating instruction. Her dedication to ongoing learning and growth has not only enhanced her own practice but has also contributed to the school's overall culture of excellence.

Conclusion

In conclusion, Angela Holtry is an outstanding educator who embodies the spirit of the "I Love Teaching" award. Her remarkable contributions as a math teacher, leader, and colleague, combined with her positive attitude, willingness to serve, and commitment to innovative teaching practices and reflection, make her an exceptional candidate for this recognition. I strongly believe that Angela's passion, dedication, and love for teaching make her a shining example of what it means to be an exceptional educator, and I am honored to submit her nomination for this prestigious award.
