Facts of this Matter:

Since the May meeting of the Board of School Trustees, BME has identified additional items to add to their weeded materials list.

Objective POSITIVES related to this item or approach:

Weeding helps ensure our library remains a vibrant, appealing space that encourages reading and learning by making room for updated, age-appropriate, and visually engaging resources that better reflect the interests and academic needs of our students.

Objective NEGATIVES related to this item or approach:

NONE

Financial Implications, if any:

Replacing outdated, damaged, or unused materials with updated, high-interest, and curriculum-aligned resources is essential to maintaining a relevant and engaging collection. A portion of the annual media center budget will be designated for the acquisition of new titles that reflect current educational standards, student interests, and diversity in authorship and content. This investment ensures that the library remains a valuable resource for student learning and literacy development.

Opinion/Recommendation:

We ask that you declare the outlined books (or other items) as surplus worthless property in accordance with IC 5-22-22-8.
