We do not have any instructional materials up for adoption for the current school year, 2016-2017.

Proclamation 17 - Instructional Materials

Instructional Materials are currently being reviewed by selected panel members in school districts in Texas, including SISD. The instructional materials that will be available for adoption in the 2017-2018 school year are as follows:

Languages other than English

Mathematics - Algebraic Reasoning and Statistics

Social Studies - Special Topics

CTE courses

Instructional materials adopted under this proclamation are scheduled to be implemented beginning in the 2017-2018 school year. Adopted materials are eligible for purchase with the instructional materials allotment (IMA) and will be ordered by the school district system known as EMAT. The intrastate freight costs for adopted instructional materials will be paid by the Texas Education Agency (TEA).

To be eligible for adoption, instructional materials submitted in response to this proclamation must cover at least 50% of the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) for the subject and grade level for which the materials are intended in both the student version and the teacher version. All materials submitted for mathematics, social studies, and CTE courses that satisfy an English, mathematics, or Proclamation 2017 Introduction 6 science requirement must also cover 100% of the English Language Proficiency Standards (ELPS) in both the student version and teacher version.

Thank you!
