A person who is required to file an information return with the IRS, must obtain your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) to report, for example, income paid to you, real estate transactions, mortgage interest you paid, acquisition of abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, or contributions you made to an IRA.

U.S. person, Use form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to provide your correct TIN to the person requesting it (the requestor) and, when applicable, to:

- 1. To certify that the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued).
- 2. Certify that you are not subject to backup withholding, or
- 3. Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are a U.S. exempt employee.

Note: If a requestor gives you a form other than form W-9 to request your TIN, you must use the requestor's form if it is substantially similar to an IRS W-9 form.

Foreign person. If you are a foreign person, use the appropriate form W-8.

Nonresident alien who becomes a resident alien. Generally, only a nonresident alien individual may use the terms of a tax treaty to reduce or eliminate U.S. tax on certain types of income. However, most tax treaties contain a provision known as a "saving clause". Exceptions specified in the saving clause may permit an exemption from tax to continue for certain types of income even after the recipient has otherwise become a U.S. resident alien for tax purposes.
