Teacher Tip of the Month by: Anna Breuninger, ALC Teacher

“when fireweed turns to cotton, summer will soon be forgotten”

Here in Anchorage, fireweed once again is a reminder that another glorious summer is quickly coming to an end. Once we’ve had our summer adventures, it is time to settle in to a homeschool routine again or, perhaps, for the first time. Here are some tips on how make the transition smooth and easy.

-  1. MAKE SPACE — Design a space in your home specifically for schoolwork. Clear off a table, find a comfy chair or two, gather and buy pens, pencils, paper, crayons, supplies for crafts and science experiments, set up the printer and computer. Have your kids help since they are the ones who will be using the space.
-  2. SCHEDULE — Decide on a schedule. Homeschooling offers infinite flexibility so choose what works for your family and be sure to alter it as needed throughout the year. Home school takes far less time than brick and mortar. Take your time!
-  3. CURRICULUM — Make sure to order curriculum and school supplies soon. Your contact teacher will help tailor the curriculum to your family’s needs and wants.
-  4. GOALS — It is a perfect time to set goals for the year. Take a walk with your kids one at a time to brainstorm and set realistic goals.
