School Board Report:

I would like to apologize for getting out off schedule with my board reports. My grandson had RSV and I did not have a lap top at home with me. I did a short one last week. Not much has changed in a week. We were at least one teacher down last week due to the flu.

The kids had a blast all week. There are a lot of art projects when it come to valentines. I think the girls get a bit competitional when it comes to creativity. There was some awesome art work/cards that went home to the parents/guardians.

Our building stays warm, we just put a little sign on it letting others know not to turn it down at night because it does take a while to warm up the classrooms. I believe a few of the windows did not get caulked when they were replaced. Rebecca knows and has already had a conversation with maintenance. She rocks.
