Weber School District Recognition Committee,

I am happy to nominate Angelia Kindall for the I Love Teaching Award. I hired Angie to be the instructional coach at Valley View when Weber School District made the official change of having every school move away from the reading specialist position and implementing an instructional coach. Angie has been instrumental in helping all students and teachers focus on what matters most and track growth in reading and math through consistent progress monitoring in all grades to enhance student learning outcomes.

Angie has excellent relationships with all students & staff. She consistently monitors & analyzes teaching practices, and gives teachers helpful feedback. She has modeled evidence-based teaching strategies and helped teachers identify areas for improvement. Angie works collaboratively with staff to set goals, unit plan, & provide ongoing support & feedback to see high levels of student achievement with every student. She always goes above and beyond in helping Valley View succeed.

Here are some comments from Valley View staff who share how Angie has helped them:

Misty Bliss:

Even before Angie was an instructional coach, she was a leader. She was a leader on our 2nd grade team. Student growth, success, and love for learning was always her top priority. She went above and beyond to insure those things, not just for her class, but for the entire grade. She now does that for our whole school. Our students, our teachers, and staff are lucky to have her. Angie's dedication to all of us is unparalleled.

Amanda Rhoades:

Angie has been an AMAZING help to everyone. She has so many suggestions to help with any question we have. And if she doesn't know the answer, she will always go and find an answer. She has all of the teachers' best interest in mind whenever she comes to our PLCs, presents at faculty meetings, or whenever she comes in to show us something new she has learned and thinks would benefit our students. She keeps all of us on track and loves to find ways to celebrate the growth that the students and teachers are making throughout the year. I don't know what we would do without Angie.

Trent Blume:

Angie is always a bright spot in the entire school, she has helped me personally with new and innovative ideas to help me, help my kids to learn at high levels.

Kim Yamashita:

Angie is one of the most dedicated teachers I have ever met. She truly loves the students and wants them to succeed. Since she has been an instructional coach, I have seen her dedication expand to not only the teachers, but to any staff member in the school- she wants all of us to be successful and will do anything needed to help us. She is encouraging, kind, helpful and optimistic. She sees the potential in all of us, which makes us want to do better. I'm grateful she is a part of our team here at Valley View!

Jodi Beyeler:

Angie wears a lot of hats...and wears them all exceptionally well. She is always there to help us and always has our backs. She cares very much for the students and is always finding ways to help us implement new strategies for teaching them. She is always kind and respectful to staff as well as students.

Staci Melo:

Angie always comes in with a smile and a positive attitude! She is a very busy person, yet she always finds time for her team and students. Angie goes above and beyond to make sure things run as smoothly as possible.

Tracy Woodward:

Angie is one in a million, and she loves and cares about all the students at Valley View. She is a team player, and If I need help with a student she is the first person I seek out. She has her fingers on the pulse of the school. She works harder than anyone I know for the benefit of the staff and school. She is loved and respected by everyone at Valley View.

As you can see, Angie Kindall is an important and loved member of our staff at Valley View Elementary and in Weber School District. I highly recommend Angie for this honor. If you have further questions please contact me.

Respectfully,

Phil Nestoryak
Principal
