Urban and Rural Schools meet on Education Goals, published in the Illinois Farmer Today on 8/12/2023 by Phyllis Coulter

To all AIRSS members -

This article represents the opportunity to continue to share dialogue and advocate for rural schools in Illinois and around the midwest. I am always honored to share the rural perspective and offer a different viewpoint that might not make the media if we do not participate in the process.

The quote I felt strongly about and stand firm on is, "we should talk about our differences, NOT the divide." Enjoy the article and know that I am constantly looking for the right opportunity to share the rural narrative from our vantage point.
