was primarily visual, the reteaching activity might be manipulative; if the teacher used the deduction approach initially, the reteaching activity might use an inductive approach, therefore allowing the student to gain a new perspective on the task.

Reteaching is an integral part of the lesson cycle and may occur in many different situations such as:

- During direct teaching as a teacher checks for understanding;
- During guided practice as a teacher monitors; or
- During independent practice as students work individually or in cooperative learning groups.

Teachers shall plan for reteaching at the same time they plan initial instruction, thereby ensuring that alternative instructional strategies are immediately available when needed. Planning for reteaching may or may not be written and should not require excessive time or documentation. If initial reteaching efforts are unsuccessful, the more complex process of remediation may be necessary. Remediation implies analysis of the learning task and further diagnosis of a student's needs, including the identification of deficient prerequisite skills. Remediation may occur in many different situations.

Reteaching, to ensure that students master the material, may include but shall not be limited to the following:

- 1. The student may be required to correct or rework unsatisfactory assignments; the grade earned shall replace the original grade.
- 2. The student may be required to retake a major examination; the grade earned shall replace the original grade.
- 3. The teacher may require the student to attend a tutorial program or remedial classes. Cocurricular or extracurricular activities shall not interfere with the requirement to attend these activities.
- 4. The teacher may assign additional work on a particular unit for the student to complete.
- 5. The teacher may work with small groups during class time while other students work independently.

SPECIAL EDUCATION Special education students shall be graded on the basis of the lev-STUDENTS el specified in the individualized education program (IEP). The report card shall indicate the level on which the grade is based. If a special education student working below grade level consistently receives a grade equivalent to an A or B, it is possible that the stu-

HOMEWORK	Homework assignments shall be both meaningful and an extension of classroom instruction that should be taken seriously by the stu- dent. The teacher shall examine and correct the homework. It shall be emphasized to students that homework is a contributing factor in learning.
MAKEUP WORK	It is the student's responsibility to schedule a makeup test just as it is his or her responsibility to complete makeup work after absenc- es. Except for extenuating circumstances such as a prolonged ill- ness, makeup work and tests shall be completed within the same number of school days as days absent after the student's return to class. Failure to do so shall result in a zero grade. Extenuating circumstances must be approved by the principal.
	A student may make up work in essential knowledge and skills and other course requirements and earn a passing grade for the se- mester under extenuating circumstances approved by the principal.
ROUTINE	Students shall receive credit for satisfactory makeup work after an absence, including absences as a result of suspension, but shall

	The average of all major assessments shall be weighted 60 percent.
	• The average of all daily grades shall be weighted 40 percent.
	Three of the 12 grades shall represent major assessments such as unit exams, projects, major papers, and the like. Major assess- ments are unit exams, projects, major papers, and the like.
	Ongoing evaluation shall represent homework, study guides, quiz- zes, daily participation, and the like.
SEMESTER EXAMINATIONS GRADES 6–12	The purpose of the semester examination is to determine, in a for- mal way, the mastery and retention of instructional objectives. While all objectives are tested by ongoing evaluations, only the major ones, especially those basic to the future success of the stu- dent, shall be included in the semester examination. Teachers shall follow the semester examination schedule provided by the principal. In courses in which an end-of-course (EOC) assessment is required by the state (Algebra I, Algebra II, Geometry, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, English I, II, and III, World Geography, World History, and U.S. History), a semester project may be assigned in lieu of a semester examination. The semester examination or se- mester project shall be counted as 15 percent of the semester grade.
REPORTING GRADES 6–12	The actual grade earned on any work and daily or major test shall be recorded in the teacher grade book. Students not demonstrat- ing mastery shall go through the reteaching process.
DROPPING COURSES	Schedule changes should be made the week prior to the beginning of each semester. Necessary changes in courses may be made within the first five school days of a semester without the grade ap- pearing on the transcript. The staff may change achievement lev- els in courses as needed. Students shall be responsible for mak- ing up work missed on essential knowledge and skills and objectives for the new course.
	In extenuating circumstances, the principal may allow a student to drop a course after five days. Students dropping a course after the second week, however, shall receive a failing grade in the course dropped and shall receive a failing grade for the new course for that semester.
CHANGING FAILING GRADES	The only situations in which a student's originally recorded failing grade may be changed to passing and the student's extracurricular eligibility restored are as follows: [See FNG(LEGAL)]

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT GRADING/PROGRESS REPORTS TO PARENTS EIA (LOCAL)

- 1. There was a mechanical error in averaging or recording the original grade.
- 2. The teacher's grading procedure violated either local policy or state rule, and the student would have received a passing grade if the correct procedure had been followed.
