May 2018

Technology /TechCo

UP MACUL was once again great! TechCo staff alone hosted 5 sessions and 3 of those were standing room only. Justin Cowen created the social “unconference” at Sol Blu the evening before the conference with multiple stations for attendees to try their hand at coding and other technology related tasks.

With school safety and security always a concern these days we are in the process of getting quotes to add a number of items to increase our security and decrease our response time response to threats. One item we are looking to add are buttons in strategic locations that can lockdown the building without having to leave your desk or use a computer. Another enhancement we have discussed is protective films for windows and doors that are bulletproof. We are always looking for things we can do to improve the overall security to our buildings.

We also have upgraded our digital signage at the admin building and the tech center. The new signs are much easier to manage and the look amazing.
