- Illinois Music Educators Association District 5 Festivals were attended by the following music students this month: Emma Stephens, Caleb Adams, Aaliyah Cooks, Nicole Arkebauer and John Berns, Concert Choir, John Berns, Vocal Jazz Choir, Carson Wilhour and Griffin Kimbrel, Concert Band
- The National Honor Society hosted a blood drive on November 9th. We blew past our goal of 72 donors and had 112 people donate blood.
- The CKH Student Process Champions hosted the monthly breakfast to honor those students who were nominated by faculty for modeling the traits of teamwork for the month of November. Process Champions prepared and served breakfast for the students and their parents. Adam Ladage from Pana PD was the guest speaker.

The faculty and staff at the high school would like to thank all of our School Board members for the support we receive on a daily basis.

The events of the last couple of events have subsided and we have fallen back into a groove at the high school.

Model UN competed at McKendree College on Tuesday Nov. 15th. The competition helps them to understand the perspectives of other nations, research and write about real world problems, and debate solutions using parliamentary procedure. The competition also gives them a chance to learn about college majors and careers where they can put these skills to work. Ironically, several of our committees were debating issues with the Russia/Ukraine war yesterday just at the time that missiles struck Poland. Some of the McKendree faculty and students led our students in a 45-minute discussion of this event, giving us some expert insight into Russia's government structure and possible next moves.

The changes made to the Yearbook program are off to a good start. Mr. File has taken the program/class and ran with it. With an early start to sales, the yearbook staff has already made $2730 in sales for the yearbook in production. This includes both book sales and advertising. In addition, we have had some success fundraising by selling old back issues that are in inventory. From this sale, an additional $265 has been either received or has sales reserved.

Guidance Department

Washington University, EIU, Sloan Implement and Army ROTC have visited and met with students during Enrichment.

Student Council will be visiting Lincoln for a playdate. They are also planning a 12 Days of Christmas activity.
