AP Summer Institutes \(APSI\)s offer weeklong intensive professional development programs at which educators can network with peers and learn about tools and resources that inspire success in their Advanced Placement classrooms.

Each year, College Board offers several competitive scholarship programs to teachers to defray the cost of this valuable professional development experience. For 2022, College Board is offering three different scholarship programs. Teachers may meet the criteria for at least one of the following opportunities. Visit APSI Scholarships homepage to learn more about each and apply.

- AP Fellows: Provides scholarships of up to $1,000 to AP teachers at schools serving underrepresented and/or low-income students.
- AP Rural Fellows: Provides scholarships of up to $1,500 to AP teachers at rural schools serving low-income students.
- AP Capstone: Provides scholarships covering tuition for AP Capstone professional development to AP Capstone teachers at schools meeting specific criteria.

Applications due dates:

- February 14, 2022, for AP Fellows and AP Rural Fellows
- March 4, 2022, for AP Capstone

To learn more about this program and see helpful FAQs, visit the APSI teacher scholarships webpage. For questions regarding APSI Scholarships, please email apsischolarhips@collegeboard.org.
