3. The Pacific Northwest District Convention is a leadership opportunity for the students. They hear from motivational speakers, attend officer training, elect their district board, and have an awards ceremony celebrating their year of service. It alternates each year between Seattle, WA and Portland, OR with around 2,000 students in attendance. These are the students that want to do community service in their free time! The students come back energized and engaged in growing their club. We have seen this over the last 3 years in our club which has grown to over 35 members meeting each week. Sarah has taken students for over 15 years. We have never received funds in the past from the district and did not anticipate it. The use of the school van would help offset our costs and we would be happy to pay for gas.

7. Idaho Panhandle Kiwanis is the club sponsor for Lakeland Key Club. Sarah McCracken is the Kiwanis Advisor and Mike Pitassi is the Faculty Advisor for the school. Typically, the Idaho Panhandle Kiwanis supports a 1/3 arrangement with the students. 1/3 from their School Account that the students have fundraised for (currently around $1,800), 1/3 from Idaho Panhandle Kiwanis, and 1/3 from the Student attending. This ensures that everyone is bought in and we also have a minimum service hours requirement to attend convention. Most years this works out to be about $150 each including convention, transportation, and meals. Idaho Panhandle Kiwanis covers 100% of the chaperone cost.
