

Clara Brownell Middle School

April 2025

As we shift into the fourth and final quarter of the school year, there is still much learning to do at CBMS. Language arts and math teachers have wrapped up student goal setting, and there are only 3 weeks remaining until spring MAP testing. Students and staff are working hard to ensure they get through their remaining content for the year. With our focus on increasing opportunities for students to respond in classrooms, classroom engagement is at an all-time high.

We welcome parents to the building April 10th and 11th for conferences, and we look forward to sharing stories of student growth and success. In particular, this group of 8th-grade students continues to make me proud of their growth in both academics and maturity over the course of this year. Huge credit to our 8th-grade team of teachers, who have done an incredible job of building relationships and mentoring students all year long.

The final year of Outdoor School at CBMS was the most fun yet! Breaking the tradition of our usual trip into the forests of LaGrande, this year's 6th-grade students and staff headed to the Oregon Coast at Rockaway Beach. For some of our students, it was the first time they had ever seen the ocean. The bus trip was a bit longer than usual, but staff and students alike felt the experience was worth it. Thank you to our parent volunteers and high-school students, who were instrumental in making the experience both educational and fun for all! I look forward to working with Mr. Young in the coming year, as he takes over the Outdoor School programing at CVI.
