

wealth, Consuelo was taught by her immigrant parents that she was rich in culture, tradition, values, and faith.

After graduating from Hardin-Simmons University, Consuelo entered the U.S. Army as an officer and served for two decades. During that time, she broke barriers and set records in the military, where she became the highest-ranking Hispanic woman in the Combat Support Field of the U.S. Army.

Consuelo currently shares her story with people of all ages and creeds. She is doing exactly what she preaches—living a legacy. In 1996, she founded the human development company Educational Achievement Services, Inc. (EAS) to fulfill her mission of preparing tomorrow's leaders. Her strong dedication to saving the youth of America has led her to work with over one million children and their parents across the United States.

Kai Kight

Innovator, speaker, violinist

Kai Kight has a diverse background that has been fueled by creating and making.

As a classical violinist turned innovative composer, Kai uses music as a metaphor to inspire individuals and organizations across the world to compose paths of imagination and fulfillment. Kai was inspired by his mother, who, when diagnosed with cancer, revealed regrets of not bringing her ideas to the world. He is now on a mission to spark a global mindset shift in which ingenuity is the norm, not the exception. In his emotionally powerful presentations, he performs mesmerizing original music and shares stories from his own transformation as an artist. He translates these insights into takeaways that audiences can easily infuse into their own lives and work environments.

A product of Stanford University's design and engineering program, the .d School, Kai remains fascinated by the leaders, artists, and companies who dare to be different. As both a Mayfield Fellow and Kleiner Perkins Design Fellow, Kai has proven himself as a leader of the next generation of innovative and entrepreneurial talent. He has performed his original music for thousands in venues across the world, from the White House to the Great Wall of China.
