

YOMOCI Classroom

Important Dates

- Jan. 28—Teacher In - Service—No school for students
- Feb. 8—Half Day for students
- Feb. 12—Lauren's Birthday!
- Feb. 14—Valentine's Day Luncheon/Party
- Feb. 26—Alexis T.'s Birthday!

Reminders

- Swimming is on Thursdays. Please send your child's swimsuit and towel to school with them so, they can participate.
- We do not have the same days off as Onekama. We go on our own schedule. There are days when OCS is in session and we are not. Please be sure to check the schedule that was sent home last Friday for those dates.

Weekly Focus

What a snowy and cold week! In reading, Jade and Jason continued to work on their recognizing their sight words in a variety of ways. Alexis G, Taylor, and Isaiah read the PCI book My Home in a Small Town. Alexis T. and Kayla read the PCI book Food from Our Farm. Paige and Olivia R. read the Reading A-Z book I Can Count 100 Things. Olivia H. and Lauren read the Reading A-Z book All Kinds of Factories. They completed worksheets to check for their comprehension.

In math, Alexis G., Jade, Olivia H., and Olivia R. continued to practice counting using one-to-one correspondence. Kayla continued to solve single digit addition problems. Paige continued to solve double digit addition problems without regrouping and Alexis T. solved double digit addition with and without regrouping. Jason and Taylor continued to work on naming the coins. Lauren and Isaiah added mixed coins using real money.

In art, the students finger painted a Valentine's Day picture and made paper chain hearts by practicing patterning with different colors.

Taylor with the snowman he built during afternoon recess.

In cooking, we made peanut butter and jelly sandwiches.

Kayla and Lauren filled the snacks and pop for Snack Shack.

Have a wonderful weekend!

Star of the Week

Congratulations to our star of the week Jade! Jade is excelling in reading, math, and writing. This week, Jade was able to read all five of her weekly sight words, count to 30 independently, and tremendously improved her handwriting. We are very proud of all of the gains she has made this week! Keep up the hard work Jade!

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also re-search articles or find “filler” articles by accessing the World Wide Web.

You can write about a variety of topics

Caption describing picture or graphic.

but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

“To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here.”

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article

Caption describing picture or graphic.

and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

a new product.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes

You can also research articles or find “filler” articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

“To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here.”

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

MISD

Primary Business Address
Your Address Line 2
Your Address Line 3
Your Address Line 4

Phone: 555-555-5555
Fax: 555-555-5555
E-mail: someone@example.com

Your business tag line here.

We're on the Web!
example.microsoft.com

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

Back Page Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some other graphic.

Caption describing picture or graphic.