

The Texas Association of School Boards has initiated a program to recognize the generous assistance provided to districts by businesses and other community organizations. By honoring those who are standing up for public schools, TASB hopes to express appreciation to those who deserve it and also encourage others to step up to help.

This recognition program is designed to complement the Stand Up for Texas Public Schools advocacy campaign, and TASB believes it will encourage more support for Texas public schools throughout the state and might help other current business partners to speak up more effectively on behalf of schools.

In addition to a local community presentation, TASB will recognize the businesses and community groups at a statewide level by publishing their names on the TASB website and in other printed materials and will honor them as other opportunities arise.

Learn more at

standup4txpublicschools.org