

Star Student Bio for Jayla Weaver-Sadler
School Board Meeting on October 12, 1998
Highlands Elementary

Jayla Weaver-Sadler was born on November 30, 1998 to Plez Weaver and Alicia Sadler. She is the proud granddaughter of Brenda Weaver and the proud step daughter of Candice Davis. Jayla is the oldest of 4 sisters and 2 brothers. She is presently a fourth grade student in Mrs. Hobbs' class at Highlands Elementary. Jayla is a member of the Character Kids Club. Jayla states that one of her biggest accomplishments at Highlands Elementary was passing the math and reading portion of the TAKS exams last year. Some of Jayla's long term goals include attending the University of North Texas and majoring in nursing. Jayla plans to become a registered nurse upon graduation from college. Jayla enjoys swimming and going to amusement parks. Jayla states that she is extremely proud to be chosen as a Star Student because it shows that people can be recognized for making positive changes. Jayla feels that she has not always made the best choices when it came to her education but she is striving to make changes daily. She planned to start this year with a fresh start and has shown a drastic improvement both behaviorally and academically. Jayla's teacher, Mrs. Hobbs, states that she is proud of Jayla for taking her education seriously. Jayla has high expectations for herself when it comes to her education and plans to accomplish many great things in the future.
