

David Cox has been recognized by the company that created Study Island, Archipelago Learning, LLC, as the exemplary ideal of how to motivate students to get the most from this dynamic educational software. H.L. Brockett Elementary has been featured nationally by Study Island, with a description of the incentive program that Mr. Cox has created serving as the backbone of the article. To stress the “cutting edge” feeling and level of excitement and achievement that the program has created, Study Island is entertaining the idea of using Mr. Cox as a presenter of the product to area districts that are looking to improve learning retention and elevated performance on state testing. This educator’s dedication to reinforcing the math, science, reading, and writing foundation of every student in AISD is deserving of appreciation here at home, just as it has brought accolades to the district from across the United States.

Thank you to Mr. David Cox for continuing the tradition of excellence that has defined Aubrey ISD since its inception.
