Idaho Positive Behavior Network

The principal and a coach from each building will be attending a one day training this week with the IPBN staff to begin our work in planning and establishing Tier 1 behavior supports. We have already seen some great ideas from attending the IPBN Annual Conference last month and are very excited to continue our work with them.

House Education Committee Meeting

I was able to speak to the House Education Committee on February 7th regarding our partnership with Teach for America. They were very excited to hear about our partnership and the positive results we have had in working with them thus far.

After the presentation I was also able to highlight Homedale Middle School's Future City success. They send much congratulations and good wishes to our students as they head to Washington DC for the national competition.
