I will do it with your permission but, man, it gives me the heebie jeebies to give out information. Just doesn't seem confidential but I guess we give most of that information when we post it in the newspaper. They're getting in my bubble. LOL

You make a good point. Let me think about this a bit. I was just rushing to get this done.

When we put it in the paper, we give the picture, the name and the parent's name. We don't give the gender which is a HIPPA violation and not ours to give out. The hometown we don't give out either. Depending on how that information is used, it could give an order of protection person the information on where that student is living. Makes you think about it, doesn't it? LOL

Is this information something we can share? Names, Gender, and Hometown seem quite personal. Just a thought.

I'm not sure when they graduate. Maybe as Gregg & others.
