Leading the way in preventing child and family maltreatment

The San Diego Conference focuses on multi-disciplinary best-practice efforts to prevent, if possible, or otherwise to investigate, treat, and prosecute child and family maltreatment.

The objective of the San Diego Conference is to develop and enhance professional skills and knowledge in the prevention, recognition, assessment and treatment of all forms of maltreatment including those related to family violence as well as to enhance investigative and legal skills. In-depth issues include support for families, prevention, leadership, policy-making. Translating the latest research into action is also addressed.

Our Invitation to You

Please join us for the 28th annual San Diego International Conference on Child and Family Maltreatment presented by the Chadwick Center for Children and Families at Rady Children's Hospital.

The 2014 conference has been carefully developed to meet the learning and networking needs of those professionals whether new to the field or seasoned veterans. The variety of the program allows you to develop your own learning experience that meets your specific needs. Come and be informed by ten pre-conferences, four plenary sessions, three networking sessions, and your choice of 150 concurrent sessions in our beautiful new setting right on San Diego Bay.

Sessions are arranged in tracks of core and advanced medical, mental health, forensic interviewing, investigations, legal, child welfare, domestic violence, military families, prevention, infant and early childhood, research and global perspectives topics. There is something for everyone.

Some highlights this year are a child fatality investigations course, which is becoming an annual training; medical and legal courses concentrating on abusive head trauma; the latest in child brain research and the impact of toxic stress; corporal punishment; an emphasis on infant and early childhood topics; trauma informed practice; and genetics. We have also expanded our one world vision with a more robust international focus throughout our tracks. Our expert faculty will impart strong science-based interventions with practical experience and real world solutions.

Over 1800 professionals from the USA and 30 countries have the opportunity to learn from each other, to interact and form personal and professional relationships and to focus on learning and spreading the best practices available throughout the world. With every new lesson learned, we hope you come away from this conference replenished, and reenergized with a renewed passion and commitment to work with these families. We invite you to come to San Diego and spread the word about our Conference to your colleagues and social media friends!

Please join us in 2014 to rekindle your passion and help create a world where children and families are healthy and free from physical and sexual violence and neglect.
