BOARD AGENDA REQUEST

Embracing Personalized Learning: The stakes could not be higher! – MCEL Partners

Over the past decade, the laws encompassing public education in Montana have been written to allow unprecedented flexibility. With the 2023 Legislative Session just around the corner, the issue of “Value of Public Education” is already front and center. A question that can already be heard echoing in the halls is can private education do it better? The MCEL partners will walk participants through what options and flexibilities our public schools currently have for personalized learning, discuss stumbling blocks our public schools have encountered, and a preview of what we can expect from the 2023 Legislature and the push for charter schools if our local public schools do not embrace the flexibilities that support personalized learning.

2:45 pm – 4:45 pm

Parent and Community Engagement and Strategic Governance – MTSBA Legal Staff

It’s one thing to talk about flexibilities, options, and personalized learning but how can it be made a reality in your district? After learning about all the various options school districts can utilize under current Montana Law, MTSBA staff will walk participants through how to effectively and positively engage parents and community members through the trust and transparency that can be effectuated through (1) embracing our open meeting laws and (2) a commitment to strategic and visionary leadership and governance.

8:15 - 11:30 am

Opening General Session

Awards Ceremony

Opening Keynote: Lessons Learned. . . Crisis Response During One School’s Tragedy – Jason Russell

Jason Russell is often asked to assist in post-incident recovery and management. On November 30, 2021, Jason was called to Oxford High School in Oxford, Michigan to provide guidance and support to the Oxford School District leadership after the tragic shooting which claimed the lives of four students and injured several other students and staff. His assistance began just minutes after the incident; Jason continues to be an integral part of the district’s safety and security team today.

In this session, Jason will discuss his role and responsibilities from the moment he arrived at Oxford High School. He will describe the procedures and responses the school district implemented, with his guidance, after the incident and the impact those had on managing during a time of crisis. Specifically, Jason will discuss the importance of crisis communication, the need for critical incident response, and the legal ramifications for the school district and associated personnel. In addition, Jason will discuss the need for a behavioral threat assessment to identify students in crisis and the resources for mental health support. Join Jason to learn strategies that will hopefully assist in preventing a terrible event such as this one from occurring in Montana public schools.

1:00 - 1:50 pm

Tier 3: Not Just You and ME! – Jon Konen and Norah Barney

As behaviors and social and emotional needs continue to rise in schools, what can we do as educators to best support students and staff? SEL(PBIS + Tier 3 Interventions) = Strong Supportive Learning Environment. In this session, you will build a foundation for understanding the importance of school culture in building a successful MTSS program. We'll explore the different systems needed as well as the universal beliefs that every school needs in order to build a successful program.

School Safety and Security – Strategies for Providing a Safe and Secure Learning and Work Environment – MTSBA Legal Staff

During this session, we will discuss the available resources available to Montana Public Schools to improve school and student safety security. This will include an overview of legislation passed over the course of the last decade to assist school districts to enhance their safety and security programs, model policies and procedures that have been developed to provide guidance for school leaders, as well as legal considerations when faced with school safety and security issues.

2:00 - 2:50 pm

Educators Rising: Creating a "Grow Your Own" program – Curtis Smeby and Lisa Rollins

The session will provide participants with an overview of Educators Rising in Montana and update those attending on its development in the state. The conversation will be interactive and focused on supporting school districts as they enhance the opportunities for their high school students to consider becoming a Montana educator. T.E.S.T., Inc. has been partnering with Montana schools for the past 23 years in evaluating and implementing technology solutions. T.E.S.T. is best known for providing the best in classroom solutions but did you know that over the past 10 years, T.E.S.T. has been consulting and working with schools to implement the best in Safety and Security as well? Aside from a child's home, schools are viewed as the second safest institution in the community. School safety and security challenges remain a multilayered and complex issue facing school leaders today. T.E.S.T., Inc. recognizes there is no single solution to making schools safe. Protecting students and faculty is an immeasurable moral and legal responsibility that school leadership must address. T.E.S.T. acknowledges that the "roller-coaster" effect of school policies, community politics, complacency, and inadequate funding are impediments that all school districts face. Security protocols are a fundamental obligation of school leaders, who face daily pressure to ensure that students are protected, often without significant security expertise. T.E.S.T.'s mission is to help ensure schools remain the one place in which every student and faculty feels safe and secure from harm. When it comes to security, school districts are faced with three simple but tough questions. What should we do? How do we prioritize? How do we pay for it? Please join us for an overview of a variety of safety and security solutions that we have helped many schools across Montana implement. T.E.S.T. has built a premier team of diverse employees and partners to serve Montana Schools. Join us as we help provide answers to those three tough questions!

School, Lorie Carey, Business Manager/District Clerk, Jefferson High School, Bridget Ekstrom, Senior Vice President, D.A. Davidson & Co., Dan Semmens, Partner, Dorsey & Whitney LLP

Despite challenges presented by COVID, Montana School Districts in 2020, 2021 and early 2022 have experienced good luck passing school bonds and completing school building projects with 14 of 16 elections passing from April 2020 through April 2022. However, since May of 2022, only 3 of 12 bond issues have passed as new economic concerns influence voters. As schools look ahead to implement their capital plans, this MCEL session will provide an interactive format for attendees to learn from the recent experience of Lewistown Elementary District and Jefferson HS District who both issued bonds in early 2022 and hear the keys to prepare for the future by: (1) putting together a capital improvement plan for the district, (2) communicating with the community in passing the bonds at a bond election, (3) issuing bonds with favorable financing terms and (4) designing, constructing and managing the construction projects.
