Title-January 22, 2024

The Title team has been busy assessing, scoring, and entering data for Winter Benchmark Testing. There has been a lot of growth over the last semester and our kiddos and teachers should be proud. Teachers will be meeting in grade level teams on Wednesday to review the data and form new intervention groups to help our struggling students make the greatest amount of growth possible.

The current round of interventions ends this Tuesday, and new groups will begin next Monday. We have been working hard to make sure we are minimizing days that groups are shut down for testing. Our kids do best when they get to stay in their routine and have that consistent support.

Though not all data is in, current reports show that we have reduced the number of students needing intensive interventions throughout the grade levels. We began the year with 56% of our students falling in this range and we now have 46% of our students in this range. We have also increased the number of students meeting or exceeding benchmarks from 28% to 36%. We still have a lot of work to do, but these results are evidence that we are going in the right direction.
