Idaho Safe Schools, Safe Students Project

The Department of Health and Welfare has been awarded a grant through the Bureau of Justice Affairs that will allow three rural LEAs to participate in the Idaho Safe Schools, Safe Students Project. The Homedale School District has been selected to participate. The grant's focus is around school mental health and safety. Schools will receive free training and monthly technical assistance visits for support. We feel like this project pairs perfectly with the PBIS work the district has already been doing and will add another dimension to our multi-tiered systems of support.
