Addition information

It is possible will begin the 2011-12 school year with less than 70 Special Education students. However with students moving in etc that can change rapidly. We had a junior high student check out to be home schooled during the last month. One BEA student will be attending summer school to complete his last class and is expected to graduate upon completion.

For the 2010-11 school year-

Referrals-

For LD or psychological evals- 11-this includes an autistic 3 year old coming from ECI

8 elementary/intermediate

3 High school/2 BEA

Speech -3 from head start 2 dnq

Students from ECI

2 speech -will be eligible next year

It is likely we will enroll an autistic 2 year old currently receiving ECI next year

Dismissals-

4 speech students 2 will be dismissed at the beginning of next year

Elementary/Intermediate has picked up several resource students this year which will affect Jr. High and High School beginning next year.

Dr. Flores is conducting the TEACCH workshop here in June and we will train para's and third grade teachers as well as one parent using stimulus funds.

Extended year school has 11 students this year the largest number in recent years. It will include three one week sessions no more than two weeks apart to ensure the least amount of regression possible for the students.

It has been wonderful to be in school this year working with staff and students. I continue to believe Brackett ISD is one of the best places for any child and thank the administration and board for their support.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions.

Respectfully,
Melanie Jones
