CISD and College Readiness

In recent weeks, articles have been published regarding CISD and College Readiness. These articles have used a variety of indicators to determine the status of college readiness within our district. In response, we need to review these indicators as well as examine other gauges readiness. We also need to evaluate how CISD prepares students for post-secondary success. This presentation will review and examine the following items:

- Purpose of Report
- What Is College Readiness?
- The Two Sides of College Readiness
- The Concept of a “Good School versus the “Best Fit”
- A Culture of Post-Secondary Success

It is important to note that this is a continuation of last Spring’s conversation regarding our comprehensive needs assessment. Last Spring, we discussed the following items:

1. Campus Demographic Information
2. Student High School Participation Rates in Academic Programs by Middle Schools
3. College Graduate Rates

After reviewing this second data set, we would suggest subsequent conversations on other data points and the questions that these data points generate.
