The bulletin board is titled "INUIT DAY" in large, colorful letters. It features a variety of content including:

- Articles and photos related to Inuit Day, such as "INUIT DAY NOV 07 2022" and "INUIT DAY LEGISLATION".
- Drawings of pumpkins and other seasonal items.
- A section titled "Made-up Tales..." with several short stories or poems.
- A section titled "Eben Hopson" with a list of questions: "What was he?", "Why do we remember him?", and "What would he tell us today?".

Below the bulletin board are six drawings of children in traditional Inuit clothing, each labeled with a name:

- Alanaurog: A drawing of a child in a white parka with a red hood and blue pants.
- Tagnak: A drawing of a child in a colorful parka with a white hood and blue pants.
- Pinaag: A drawing of a child in a white parka with a red hood and blue pants.
- Sijun: A drawing of a child in a white parka with a red hood and blue pants.
- Taktuk: A drawing of a child in a white parka with a red hood and blue pants.
- Nipqak: A drawing of a child in a white parka with a red hood and blue pants.
