Teacher Tip of the Month by: Jen Whicker, KLC Contact Teacher

Time Management with online classes

I saw the following tips shared by one of our online class providers, eDynamic Learning, and wanted to pass along to our PACE families who are increasingly having their students take one or more online class. I often hear students and parents say how hard it is to keep up with the assignments in a timely manner and turn them in by the suggested due dates. I hope these tips are helpful!

Tip: Practice time management

The flexibility to create your own schedule is often one of the biggest appeals of taking online classes. But that freedom can also be detrimental if you do not have solid time management skills. Without them, you might find yourself cramming before classes or handing in subpar assignments.

Though how you manage your time will depend on your schedule, learning style, and personality, here are some universally valuable tips to help you practice and improve your time management skills:

- Look at the syllabus at the start of the semester and make note of major assignments. Mark them on a calendar you check regularly so you know what workload is coming in the weeks ahead. Do not forget to factor in prior commitments that may interfere with your regular study schedule.
- Create a weekly schedule that you follow, designating certain hours each week to reading, watching lectures, completing assignments, and studying. Commit to making your online coursework part of your weekly routine and set reminders for yourself to complete these tasks.
- When working on your assignments, try time-blocking, allotting yourself a certain amount of time for each task before moving on to the next one and setting a timer to keep you accountable.
- Check in periodically throughout the term and look at how you are spending your time. Ask yourself: How much time am I dedicating to course reading and assignments? Am I regularly underestimating the time it is taking me to get things done, forcing me to cram the nights before the exams? A little self-reflection and adjustment can go a long way.

Also, please make sure that you are reading the emails from your online teacher(s). They are there for you and want you to succeed, so don't be afraid to ask them questions, especially if you are having difficulty or need clarification on a task.
