During our district's selection process, sample materials will be evaluated by curriculum specialists, curriculum directors, campus instructional coaches, and classroom teachers for the course areas involved in the current proclamation 2021 selection process. All campuses will be represented in this process and every teacher in this course area will have the opportunity to vote on their top choices. This group will determine which materials will be the best selection for our district.

Recommendations for the 2020-2021 Textbook Committee are listed below. District-level and campus-level representatives are included.
