Subject:
Consider Approval of Expenditures with ILA-OMNIA Vendor Brightly Software, Inc.

Background:
The Brightly Origin platform is a powerful tool designed to support the facilities long-range planning by centralizing facility data, asset information, and building performance metrics in one cloud-based system. Brightly Software, Inc. is available for us to contract with through our membership in the OMNIA purchasing cooperative. This cloud-based software platform provides detailed insights into building conditions and lifecycle needs, enabling data-driven decision-making for capital planning and resource allocation. Brightly Origin will work hand in hand with Brightly’s Asset Essentials platform—an updated version of SchoolDude already in use by our maintenance team—to create a seamless connection between daily maintenance operations and long-term facility planning. Together, these platforms will enhance efficiency, improve asset management, and ensure that facility investments are strategically aligned with operational needs and future growth.
