Menus have been approached with a higher percentage of fresh food over frozen, compared to previous food served before this reporting period. Meal choices are offered on some days, using the state's guidelines for multi choice options.

For menus being made for the rest of the school year, student input has been taken on what they would like to be served. If it fits within guidelines, student choice will be part of the menu vernacular, indicating the meal of the day was chosen by the student body.

Student satisfaction has risen substantially with the approach taken on foodservice at present.
