Background Information

Utility costs represent a significant and ongoing operational expense. As the District continues to prioritize responsible stewardship of public funds, operational efficiency, and sustainability, it is important to leverage tools that provide greater visibility and control over energy consumption.

Ideal Impact is an organization founded on the principle of redirecting dollars spent on utilities back into the operating budgets of schools and churches. Its financially risk-free model focuses on implementing short-term, sustainable energy projects that reduce utility consumption and costs. This approach supports proactive energy management rather than reactive responses to rising utility expenses.

By utilizing Ideal Impact, the District can improve transparency, strengthen accountability, and support informed, long-term planning related to facilities and energy operations. This approach aligns with the District's broader goals of sustainability, cost containment, and maximizing resources in support of student learning.
