Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment

Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment Summary

We use CScope Year at a Glance as our scope and sequence. Teachers have the flexibility of incorporating adopted textbooks, on line resources, teacher made lessons, and STAAR Readiness materials. RtI program is incorporated in the students' day. Teachers use current research based methodologies to instruct. Jones Elementary/Intermediate gives Universal Screenings, Progress Monitoring, Benchmarks, 9 weeks assessments, and CScope Assessments. Students are referred to the RtI process based on performance assessments/universal screenings. The CARE Team meets regularly to review student progress. At risk students have a folder that contains all documentation of interventions throughout their elementary grades.

Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment Strengths

Teachers understand that a major benefit of CScope is that the implementation is much rigorous. They also understand that this is increasingly more important due to the uncertainty of STAAR requirements. Teachers desire to continue to strengthen their skills and to use assessment data at a deeper level. There is growing consistency and understanding about the depth and rigor requirements for instruction and a willingness to learn more. Teachers believe that students are more highly engaged and are learning more at the conceptual level than they were just a few years ago. Students and staff are being stretched to meet the demands of the new STAAR assessments and also for a college-ready culture. Scheduling and consistency with all assessments and interventions. Flexibility with use of curriculum resources. Awareness of changes at state level. Collaboration on state level requirements. Support from school board and administration. The entire staff recognizes the need for vertical conversations about building background knowledge and the vocabulary being used at different grade levels.

Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment Needs

- Additional awareness on the identification of Heat Maps and the best intervention strategies once the Maps are created
- How to match the rigor in the classroom to what will be required on the STAAR Assessments
- Professional development on STAAR Content Areas
- Strategies need to be developed to increase challenge and differentiation for high-achieving levels

Family and Community Involvement

Family and Community Involvement Summary

Technology

Technology Summary

Jones Elementary/Intermediate had made great strides in the world of technology and education. The administration, staff and teachers believe that technology must be an ever-increasing and integral part of the educational process. Jones Elementary/Intermediate has two computer labs that are used for Kinder and 4th grade students for 30 minutes daily. There is also a Computer on Wheels Cart that 5th and 6th graders can use in their classrooms. Each teacher has a laptop, infocus projector, smart board/mimio, and document camera that are used daily to further enhance the education of every child. Special Education has ipad for the students and a poster maker.

Technology Strengths

Teachers continue to train on technology and the many uses of technology in the classroom. Innovative new ideas are shared with the faculty. Internet access and connectivity are good. The availability of technology via computers, ipads, mobile labs, etc. is strong.

Teachers are knowledgeable about the use of SMART boards and they incorporate those into their daily lessons. They are continuing to learn and share new tools and tips with each other.

Technology Needs

- Strategies for using technology to better communicate with parents
- Additional strategies to support technology use by parents

Schoolwide Program Plan

Ten Schoolwide Components

1: Comprehensive Needs Assessment

2: Schoolwide Reform Strategies

Schoolwide Reform Strategies: Each CIP must should include strategies that:

- Provide opportunities for all students to meet the state performance standards (STAAR)
- Are based on effective methods and use instructional strategies that are based on scientifically based research that:
 - strengthen the core academic program in the school.
 - increase the amount and quality of learning time (extended school year, before-and after-school programs, and summer programs)
 - provide enriched and accelerated curriculum
 - include strategies for meeting the needs of historically underserved populations

address the needs of all children in the school, but particularly the needs of low-achieving children and those at risk of not meeting the state student academic achievement standards who are members of the target population of any program that is included in the school wide program

3: Instruction by highly qualified professional teachers

Instruction by Highly Qualified Teachers and Strategies to Attract Highly-Quality Qualified Teachers to High-Need Schools, Especially forHigh-NeedsSchool.

Each CIP must identify how the campus will recruit high-quality qualified teachers and ensure that instruction will be provided by highly qualified teachers (as defined by NCLB).

4: High-quality and ongoing professional development for teachers, principals, and paraprofessionals and, if appropriate, student services personnel, parents, and other staff

Professional Development: Each schoolwide campus must provide high-quality, ongoing professional development for teachers, principals, paraprofessionals, and if appropriate, other pupil services personnel, parents, and school staff to enable all children in the school to meet the state's student academic and achievement standards.

5: Strategies to attract highly qualified teachers

6: Strategies to increase parental involvement

Parental Involvement: Each school shall jointly develop with and distribute to parents of participating students a written parental involvement policy, agreed upon by such parents and agreed upon periodically. The school parental involvement policy should describe parental involvement strategies related to the school-parent compact, capacity-building, and accessibility.

Parental Involvement must also include:

- An annual meeting to inform parents of their child's participation in Title 1, Part A, program requirements, and their right to be involved;
- Flexible number of meetings, e.g., morning and evening (the campus may provide transportation, child care, or home visits);
- Their involvement is an organized, ongoing, timely way, in the planning, review and improvement of the Title 1, Part A, program, including the development of the parent involvement policy and the schoolwide plan;
- Providing parents with timely information about the Title 1, Part A, program; a description and explanation of the curriculum; forms of academic assessment used to measure student progress, and proficiency levels students are expected to meet; and if requested by parents, opportunities for regular meetings to formulate suggestions and participate, as appropriate, in decisions relating to the education of their children; and
- Sharing information about professional qualifications of their child's teachers; achievement level of their child in each of the state's academic assessments (including RPTE and TPRI); and timely notice that their child has been assigned to or has been taught for four or more consecutive weeks by teachers who are not highly qualified, as defined by NCLB.

At the beginning of each year, the LEA must notify the parents of each student attending any Title 1, Part A, campus that the LEA will provide the parents in a timely manner upon request by the parent, information regarding the professional qualifications of the student's classroom teachers.
