Classroom Highlights

All levels are working diligently to get their last bits of learning before taking their AKSTAR and SCIENCE assessments. The elementary classroom weighed their hatched chicks on a daily basis and tracked and analyzed data to see which chicken grew the fastest. The chickens have been relocated to their new home.

Classroom Highlights Continued: The third grade class met with a class in Massachusetts that is also a fishing community. Margo's uncle is principal of that school. They had a chance to talk with other students and compare and contrast their experiences. Secondary is continuing to make progress with their classes both online and in person.
LSAC Activity
The LSAC last met on March 14, 2025. Hanna Overton, Seat A, Board Member and Eddie Overton Alternate: Jolene Tupuola, Seat B, President Jennie Grunert, Seat C, Secretary: Colleen Jones, Seat D, Board Member: Dan Grunert, Seat E, Vice President Topics were Middle School SNAP: having the middle schoolers write a letter to ask for assistance from both student government and Village Council. These were approved! Culture Camp, End of Year Celebrations, and Erin Alverson volunteering to do school pictures!
Community Engagement
Margo Jewett was a great addition to the Lagoon. LSAC, parents, and staff threw her a going away party to wish her best wishes on her next adventure. Jennie Grunert purchased pizza and community members and staff all contributed a little bit to make her farewell special.
Professional Development
Professional Development for the Reads Act is still continuing with Moon McCarley facilitating. Elaina McCormick has completed her necessary training for preschool and even went to Anchorage to receive additional training. She said she learned a lot about educating our littlest of learners.
Pupil % Attendance K-12
Attendance for March was at 84%
Student and Staff Safety
No Safety Concerns at this time, other than Be Bear Aware, Bears are starting to wake up.
