Background:

The Alaska Youth Risk Behavior Survey (YRBS) is part of an epidemiological surveillance system that the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) established in 1990 to monitor the prevalence of health-risk behaviors among youth. The YRBS is a biennial, anonymous and voluntary survey of students grades 9 – 12 in public traditional high schools (excluding boarding, correspondence, home study, alternative, and correctional schools). The Alaska YRBS is a joint project between the Department of Education & Early Development and the Department of Health and Social Services, in cooperation with the CDC.
