As we continue working toward a Kayden's Law bill for child safety in family court and for judicial training on domestic violence and child abuse, we are also monitoring legislative developments at the state level.

Bills have been introduced in the Michigan House that state that a presumption of 50/50 custody is in the best interest of the child. These types of bills have historically caused harm for domestic abuse survivors. If you would like more information on these bills or their potential impact, please contact us.

Thank you,
