Many changes are under way in public education. State government has launched aggressive reforms that will change the way people think about schools, community colleges and universities. And soon, we will join a new conversation about how to change the pattern of public investment in schools.

As a member of OSBA, you are among those who must lead the change to ensure that your community's public education program prepares students for life and work in the global community. Educational experts and OSBA staff members are ready to help you discover your strengths, build on shared knowledge, learn new information and craft exceptional solutions.
