I am F.I.N.E.

Parenting adolescents is difficult. We often ask our young person, "How are you?" and get the typical response, "I am fine." However, based on tone, body language, or instinct, we suspect otherwise. Hormones, peer relationships and pressures, busy schedules, and school can create a vulnerability for teens to develop mental health and/or substance use difficulties. Parents find themselves desperate for guidance and support to help their loved one. This dynamic presentation will help you begin to identify when your adolescent is not fine and ways to intervene.

TOGETHER WE CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE!
