AP U.S. Government and Politics Course Description:

AP U.S. Government and Politics provides a college-level, nonpartisan introduction to key political concepts, ideas, institutions, policies, interactions, roles, and behaviors that characterize the constitutional system and political culture of the United States. Students will study U.S. foundational documents, Supreme Court decisions, and other texts and visuals to gain an understanding of the relationships and interactions among political institutions, processes, and behaviors. Underpinning the required content of the course are several big ideas that allow students to create meaningful connections among concepts throughout the course.

Students will also engage in skill development that requires them to read and interpret data, make comparisons and applications, and develop evidence-based arguments. In addition, they will complete a political science research or applied civics project.

Curriculum Costs:

At the time of this Syllabus creation we do not have a set textbook, we are open to working with the district/building administration for the most feasible options and to work through the adoption process. The regular TCI textbook is not an AP approved book so it would not be an option for this class. Here are the two main options we are looking at right now, depending on teacher review of books, student enrollment numbers, and what the district is willing to pay

Something to consider: Enrollment is likely to be low, especially early on for this course. Accordingly a small amount of textbooks will likely suffice. Also because this course would only be offered in the second semester we would have time after adoption to explore these options and see what enrollment looks like.

Option 1, traditional hardcover textbook with an AP focus:

Abernathy, Scott and Waples, Karen, "American Government: Stories of a Nation, 1st Edition" (2019).
Bedford, Freeman, & Worth

Hardcover copy cost listed at 144.98. Digital copy listed at $55 per year per student.

Option 2: Free, open source online textbook and a supporting paperback text that has an AP focus

Krutz, Glen and Waskiewicz, Sylvie, "American Government, 3rd Edition" (2021). eTextbooks for Students. 397.

Wolfford, David, "Advanced Placement United States Government & Politics, 3rd edition" (2020). Perfection Learning

American Government book is free online, AMSCO costs $22.95 for softcover edition, Softcover plus interactive (online) edition is 29.95 for a 1 year license, e-book is $22.95 for a year license.

AP U.S. GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Course Content

This course framework provides a description of the course requirements necessary for student success. The framework specifies what students should know and be able to do. The framework also encourages instruction that prepares students for advanced political science coursework and active, informed participation in our constitutional democracy.

UNITS

The course content is organized into commonly taught units. The units have been arranged in a logical sequence frequently found in many college courses and textbooks.

Pacing recommendations at the unit level and on the Course at a Glance provide suggestions for how to teach the required course content and administer the Progress Checks. The suggested class periods are based on a schedule in which the class meets five days a week for 45 minutes each day. While these recommendations have been made to aid planning, teachers should of course adjust the pacing based on the needs of their students, alternate schedules (e.g., block scheduling), or their school's academic calendar.

The five units in AP U.S. Government and Politics and their weighting on the multiple-choice section of the AP Exam are listed below.

Units	Exam Weighting
Unit 1: Foundations of American Democracy	15–22%
Unit 2: Interactions Among Branches of Government	25–36%
Unit 3: Civil Liberties and Civil Rights	13–18%
Unit 4: American Political Ideologies and Beliefs	10–15%
Unit 5: Political Participation	20–27%

TOPICS

Each unit is broken down into teachable segments called topics. The topic pages contain the required content for each topic. Although most topics can be taught in one or two class periods, teachers are again encouraged to pace the course to suit the needs of their students and school.

BIG IDEAS

The course focuses on five big ideas which allow students to create meaningful connections among concepts across the units. Connecting these big ideas across the different course units will help students develop a deeper conceptual understanding of the course content. Big ideas are spiraled throughout the curriculum through the topics. Below are the big ideas of the course and a brief description of each.

BIG IDEA 1: CONSTITUTIONALISM

The U.S. Constitution establishes a system of checks and balances among branches of government and allocates power between federal and state governments. This system is based on the rule of law and the balance between majority rule and minority rights.

BIG IDEA 2: LIBERTY AND ORDER

Governmental laws and policies balancing order and liberty are based on the U.S. Constitution and have been interpreted differently over time.

BIG IDEA 3: CIVIC PARTICIPATION IN A REPRESENTATIVE DEMOCRACY

Popular sovereignty, individualism, and republicanism are important considerations of U.S. laws and policymaking and assume citizens will engage and participate

BIG IDEA 4: COMPETING POLICYMAKING INTERESTS

Multiple actors and institutions interact to produce and implement possible policies.

BIG IDEA 5: METHODS OF POLITICAL ANALYSIS

Using various types of analyses, political scientists measure how U.S. political behavior, attitudes, ideologies, and institutions are shaped by a number of factors over time.

Spiraling the Big Ideas

The following table shows how the big ideas spiral across units.

Big Ideas	Unit 1	Unit 2	Unit 3	Unit 4	Unit 5
	Foundations of American Democracy	Interactions Among Branches of Government	Civil Liberties and Civil Rights	American Political Ideologies and Beliefs	Political Participation

- Sequence of units, along with approximate weighting and suggested pacing. Please note, pacing options are provided for teaching the course for a full year and for a single semester.
- Progression of topics within each unit.
- Spiraling of the skills across all units.

Major Class Activities

- ③ Current events presentations
- ⑩ Students, individually or as a pair, will prepare a current events presentation that they will share with the class at the start of their assigned week. The presentation must include at least one story that links one or more of the big ideas to each of the five units in the AP U.S. Government and Politics curriculum. The current events presentation also must include at least one relevant visual source (political cartoon, quantitative data, or infographic) for each story with a caption that explains its connection to the big idea and/or unit that story covers.
- ③ Analytical paper assignment
- ⑩ Students will be required to write several analytical papers about important topics in United States government and politics. These papers will be due on various dates throughout the semester. Each paper must be no more than four pages in length. One to two analytical paper assignments will require students to also examine how the assigned article and a required case/foundational document corroborate or contradict one another
- ③ Key Concept Exams
- ⑩ Using the course framework, I will create a list of important political science and government terms such as political culture, etc. Students will take basic exams over these terms throughout the semester to demonstrate mastery of key concepts essential to the foundation of the AP Government and Politics course

③ Debates

⑩ Students, in teams of three, will compete in a debate about a current public policy or issue in American government and politics. Each team will get a five-minute opening statement, a five-minute cross-examination period, and a five-minute closing statement. Students must also have a visual that helps support their main arguments. This visual can be a chart, graph, table, political cartoon, or infographic. Finally, each team is responsible for providing an annotated works cited page of the resources used to develop their arguments and questions.

③ Required Court Cases:

⑩ In pairs, students will create a interactive presentation for one of the required court cases. Their interactive presentation must include a summary of the constitutional issue involved in the case, a summary of the holding of the case, any significant dissents in the case, and connections to at least two similar cases (acting as precedent or overturning the original decision). In addition to the previous requirements, each student's Presentation should contain relevant visuals, such as political cartoons, photographs, or tables/charts and a caption that explains their relevance to the case.

③ Any time there is an activity that involves one of the required foundational documents, students are required to read the document ahead of time. As part of their reading, students are required to annotate the document and write a one paragraph summary of the document.

AP U.S. Government and Politics Course Description:

AP U.S. Government and Politics provides a college-level, nonpartisan introduction to key political concepts, ideas, institutions, policies, interactions, roles, and behaviors that characterize the constitutional system and political culture of the United States. Students will study U.S. foundational documents, Supreme Court decisions, and other texts and visuals to gain an understanding of the relationships and interactions among political institutions, processes, and behaviors. Underpinning the required content of the course are several big ideas that allow students to create meaningful connections among concepts throughout the course.

Students will also engage in skill development that requires them to read and interpret data, make comparisons and applications, and develop evidence-based arguments. In addition, they will complete a political science research or applied civics project.

Curriculum Costs:

At the time of this Syllabus creation we do not have a set textbook, we are open to working with the district/building administration for the most feasible options and to work through the adoption process. The regular TCI textbook is not an AP approved book so it would not be an option for this class. Here are the two main options we are looking at right now, depending on teacher review of books, student enrollment numbers, and what the district is willing to pay

Something to consider: Enrollment is likely to be low, especially early on for this course. Accordingly a small amount of textbooks will likely suffice. Also because this course would only be offered in the second semester we would have time after adoption to explore these options and see what enrollment looks like.

Option 1, traditional hardcover textbook with an AP focus:

Abernathy, Scott and Waples, Karen, "American Government: Stories of a Nation, 1st Edition" (2019).
Bedford, Freeman, & Worth

Hardcover copy cost listed at 144.98. Digital copy listed at $55 per year per student.

Option 2: Free, open source online textbook and a supporting paperback text that has an AP focus

Krutz, Glen and Waskiewicz, Sylvie, "American Government, 3rd Edition" (2021). eTextbooks for Students. 397.

Wolfford, David, "Advanced Placement United States Government & Politics, 3rd edition" (2020). Perfection Learning

American Government book is free online, AMSCO costs $22.95 for softcover edition, Softcover plus interactive (online) edition is 29.95 for a 1 year license, e-book is $22.95 for a year license.

AP U.S. GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Course Content

This course framework provides a description of the course requirements necessary for student success. The framework specifies what students should know and be able to do. The framework also encourages instruction that prepares students for advanced political science coursework and active, informed participation in our constitutional democracy.

UNITS

The course content is organized into commonly taught units. The units have been arranged in a logical sequence frequently found in many college courses and textbooks.

Pacing recommendations at the unit level and on the Course at a Glance provide suggestions for how to teach the required course content and administer the Progress Checks. The suggested class periods are based on a schedule in which the class meets five days a week for 45 minutes each day. While these recommendations have been made to aid planning, teachers should of course adjust the pacing based on the needs of their students, alternate schedules (e.g., block scheduling), or their school's academic calendar.

The five units in AP U.S. Government and Politics and their weighting on the multiple-choice section of the AP Exam are listed below.

Units	Exam Weighting
Unit 1: Foundations of American Democracy	15–22%
Unit 2: Interactions Among Branches of Government	25–36%
Unit 3: Civil Liberties and Civil Rights	13–18%
Unit 4: American Political Ideologies and Beliefs	10–15%
Unit 5: Political Participation	20–27%

TOPICS

Each unit is broken down into teachable segments called topics. The topic pages contain the required content for each topic. Although most topics can be taught in one or two class periods, teachers are again encouraged to pace the course to suit the needs of their students and school.

BIG IDEAS

The course focuses on five big ideas which allow students to create meaningful connections among concepts across the units. Connecting these big ideas across the different course units will help students develop a deeper conceptual understanding of the course content. Big ideas are spiraled throughout the curriculum through the topics. Below are the big ideas of the course and a brief description of each.

BIG IDEA 1: CONSTITUTIONALISM

The U.S. Constitution establishes a system of checks and balances among branches of government and allocates power between federal and state governments. This system is based on the rule of law and the balance between majority rule and minority rights.

BIG IDEA 2: LIBERTY AND ORDER

Governmental laws and policies balancing order and liberty are based on the U.S. Constitution and have been interpreted differently over time.

BIG IDEA 3: CIVIC PARTICIPATION IN A REPRESENTATIVE DEMOCRACY

Popular sovereignty, individualism, and republicanism are important considerations of U.S. laws and policymaking and assume citizens will engage and participate

BIG IDEA 4: COMPETING POLICYMAKING INTERESTS

Multiple actors and institutions interact to produce and implement possible policies.

BIG IDEA 5: METHODS OF POLITICAL ANALYSIS

Using various types of analyses, political scientists measure how U.S. political behavior, attitudes, ideologies, and institutions are shaped by a number of factors over time.

Spiraling the Big Ideas

The following table shows how the big ideas spiral across units.

Big Ideas	Unit 1	Unit 2	Unit 3	Unit 4	Unit 5
	Foundations of American Democracy	Interactions Among Branches of Government	Civil Liberties and Civil Rights	American Political Ideologies and Beliefs	Political Participation

Civic Participation in a Representative Democracy

- Sequence of units, along with approximate weighting and suggested pacing. Please note, pacing options are provided for teaching the course for a full year and for a single semester.
- Progression of topics within each unit.
- Spiraling of the skills across all units.

Primary Textbook

At the time of this Syllabus creation we do not have a set textbook, we are open to working with the district/building administration for the most feasible options and to work through the adoption process. The regular TCI textbook is not an AP approved book so it would not be an option for this class. Here are the two main options we are looking at right now, depending on teacher review of books and what the district is willing to pay:

Option 1, traditional hardcover textbook with an AP focus:
Abernathy, Scott and Waples, Karen, "American Government: Stories of a Nation, 1st Edition" (2019).
Bedford, Freeman, & Worth

Option 2: Free, open source online textbook and a supporting paperback text that has an AP focus

Krutz, Glen and Waskiewicz, Sylvie, "American Government, 3rd Edition" (2021). eTextbooks for Students.
397.

Wolfford, David, "Advanced Placement United States Government & Politics, 3rd edition" (2020). Perfection Learning

Major Class Activities

- ③ Current events presentations
- ⑩ Students, individually or as a pair, will prepare a current events presentation that they will share with the class at the start of their assigned week. The presentation must include at least one story that links one or more of the big ideas to each of the five units in the AP U.S. Government and Politics curriculum. The current events presentation also must include at least one relevant visual source (political cartoon, quantitative data, or infographic) for each story with a caption that explains its connection to the big idea and/or unit that story covers.
- ③ Analytical paper assignment
- ⑩ Students will be required to write several analytical papers about important topics in United States government and politics. These papers will be due on various dates throughout the semester. Each paper must be no more than four pages in length. One to two analytical paper assignments will require students to also examine how the assigned article and a required case/foundational document corroborate or contradict one another
- ③ Key Concept Exams
- ⑩ Using the course framework, I will create a list of important political science and government terms such as political culture, etc. Students will take basic exams over these terms throughout the semester to demonstrate mastery of key concepts essential to the foundation of the AP Government and Politics course

③ Debates

⑩ Students, in teams of three, will compete in a debate about a current public policy or issue in American government and politics. Each team will get a five-minute opening statement, a five-minute cross-examination period, and a five-minute closing statement. Students must also have a visual that helps support their main arguments. This visual can be a chart, graph, table, political cartoon, or infographic. Finally, each team is responsible for providing an annotated works cited page of the resources used to develop their arguments and questions.

③ Required Court Cases:

⑩ In pairs, students will create a interactive presentation for one of the required court cases. Their interactive presentation must include a summary of the constitutional issue involved in the case, a summary of the holding of the case, any significant dissents in the case, and connections to at least two similar cases (acting as precedent or overturning the original decision). In addition to the previous requirements, each student's Presentation should contain relevant visuals, such as political cartoons, photographs, or tables/charts and a caption that explains their relevance to the case.

③ Any time there is an activity that involves one of the required foundational documents, students are required to read the document ahead of time. As part of their reading, students are required to annotate the document and write a one paragraph summary of the document.

ISSUE: The Board of Education is asked to consider and approve the addition of the curriculum resource, Functional Academics, used in the RISE and LEAP special education classrooms.

ALTERNATIVES:

1. Approve the course as presented as an elective course to be offered as a .05 credit course.
2. Do not approve the course as an elective and the course will not be offered.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Board of Education approve the course as presented.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Board of Education
THRU: Dr. Mike Dominguez, Superintendent
FROM: Brandon Anderson, Director of Plant Facilities
DATE: 12/10/2024
RE: Consider and Act on proposals for a new all-inclusive play playground with ADA- compliant turf footing for Edith Scheuerman Elementary.

ISSUE:

Edith Scheuerman is next in the rotation for funding for a Playground upgrade. This projected is budgeted for $120,000 in the Long-Range Facilities Plan and we have access to SPED funds for playground equipment upgrades that would fund the rest.

Director of Plant Facilities, Brandon Anderson will be available to answer questions.

BACKGROUND:

Safe, inclusive playgrounds are essential to a well-rounded learning environment. Each year a different elementary receives funding for a substantial upgrade. This project began last Spring with discussions with Brandy Ochs, Principal at Edith Scheuerman and Plant Facilities Staff. After our original presentation it was discussed to be able to utilize Sped funds to help bolster the project by including an all-inclusive play surface and other inclusive play components.

ALTERNATIVES:

You have 2 for your review, One from Next Generation Recreation (Playworld) with a turn key cost of $164,066.00 after Sourcewell Discount and the other is from Cunningham Recreation (Gametime) for a turn key cost of $164,941.09 after $58,840.88 one-time matching grant funds. Both quotes do not include sidewalk extension to the playground from existing sidewalk and fencing the playground.

RECOMMENDATION:

The 2 options are very similar. The Playworld equipment is consistent with what we have been installing in past years and Next Gen has been good to work with. Cunningham Recreation has not been used by the district and offers a bit more with this project, about 240 more square footage, as well as a different play design from Gametime, but also with a large one-time discount which we will not be eligible for in the future.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Board of Education
THRU: Dr. Mike Dominguez, Superintendent
FROM: Brandon Anderson, Director of Plant Facilities
DATE: 12/10/2024
RE: Consider and Act on approving the purchase of Cenobots Autonomous Scrubber and Sweeper for use on the hard surfaces at the Garden City High School.

ISSUE:

With the large amount of hard surfaces to clean at the high school and the advancement and improvement with autonomous cleaning equipment, we believe we have found a very economical but quality scrubber and sweeper to put into our workforce at the Garden City High School.

Director of Plant Facilities, Brandon Anderson will be available to answer questions.

BACKGROUND:

We have been looking at the new technology for a few years. Most products have been very high priced. This is a somewhat new vendor but has been vetted and checked on and their product seems to be as good as the higher priced brands but much more economical. Attached you will see the other brands and their prices listed Robotic Scrubbers and Sweepers excel spread sheet.

ALTERNATIVES:

The main feedback we hear at the High School from custodial staff is that they need more staff. We have looked at the staffing levels and we feel we are sufficient to handle the team cleaning concept for the evening shifts. The 2 daytime staff are busy with Lunches and other tasks and this would take over a big task for all involved and can be done during the middle of the night.

RECOMMENDATION:

Approve the purchase of the Cenobots Autonomous Scrubber and Sweeper at a total cost of $73,316.25.

FISCAL NOTE:

We have funds available within the current budget for custodial equipment.
