WOODBRIIDGE SCHOOL DISTRICT

Grade/Subject	Grade 1; Reading Unit 5
Unit Title	Now You See It, Now You Don't (HMH Module 5)
Pacing	~4-5 weeks; January/February

Unit Overview
Rationale: In this module, students will explore a variety of genres through listening and reading to understand the cycle of light and dark. They will have several opportunities to investigate Earth's rotation around the sun, learning about day and night as well as the changing seasons. Additionally, students will set personal goals, track their progress, and reflect on their learning. As they engage with different genres, students will deepen their understanding of how light and dark influence people. They will read about Earth's rotation and explore concepts related to day, night, and the seasons. As students expand their vocabulary and synthesize their knowledge, they will discover that exploration can occur through both experimentation and reading. Literacy centers and small group work will offer further opportunities to strengthen these skills. Throughout the module, students will also explore the essential question related to the connection between nature and the natural world, examining how the environment impacts our lives. This reading unit aligns with our science unit, "Light, Sound, and Communication."
Big Ideas
Enduring Understandings <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The rotation of Earth causes night and day. There is a relationship between the Earth and the sun that causes the change of seasons. Learning about our world helps us be good stewards for the future. 	Essential Questions Why do light and dark come and go?
