VI. SPECIAL REPORTS

VI.A. Recognition of Love INC for Teacher Supply Giveaway

VI.B. Summer Educational Programs

2015 Graduation Rate Interventions

A Review of Programs

Over the past three years, the Corvallis Public Schools Foundation has funded a variety of programs intended to promote academic success and ensure that students are on the path to graduation. This report focuses on programs implemented this summer.

The largest of these programs has been the Summer Credit Recovery Program, which serves students from all three high schools. This year 97 students participated in at least one on-line credit recovery class. Seventy-eight percent of participants successfully completed their coursework, earning a total of 113.5 half credits. Because of this program, seven students graduated this year who otherwise would have required additional time in high school.

"C. came to us with quite a bit of math anxiety. The outcome was more than just earning credit. C. Realized that she can actually do math! She will start school in the fall with a new sense of math confidence." – Cathy Wright, College Hill

This summer, in addition to interventions geared toward secondary students, the Foundation supported a pilot program called Kinder Launch at Garfield Elementary School. Incoming Kindergarten students who were English Language Learners were invited to attend. The goal of this three-week program was to reach students who had not yet been exposed to preschool and give them a sense of confidence and preparedness for the classroom environment. Eighteen students participated in this year's pilot program.

AVID (Advancement via Individual Determination), a national program offered to high school students to foster college readiness and reduce the achievement gap, continues to be a success at both Crescent Valley and Corvallis High Schools. The Foundation provided support for AVID Boot Camps this year; each camp served 24 incoming freshmen.

AVID Boot Camp is designed as an intensive immersion that begins the process of building relationships between students and teachers and prepares them for success in school. AVID Boot Camp consisted of four half-days at CVHS and two full days at CHS in August. All students who have been accepted to the year-long AVID program were invited to attend.

"The AVID Boot Camp is a great benefit in terms of getting kids acclimated to high school and giving them confidence. It propels them toward feeling like leaders in the school." – Matt Boring, CHS Principal

This summer, both CHS and CVHS offered several additional opportunities for students who needed to retake a class or gain confidence and proficiency. CHS offered a small Algebra Readiness Camp to seven incoming freshman to reduce math anxiety and provide introductory skills. As Principal Matt Boring commented, “The small size of this camp enabled me to put a name to a face. I see these kids in the halls now. That is what is so powerful about getting kids in the summer.” CHS also offered an English/Language Arts Passing Camp for students who failed the previous year’s class by a small margin; 18 of 24 participants achieved a passing score on coursework.

“Summer programs have supported the school and district mission of Every Student a Graduate, whether that is in earning the 24 credits or meeting the Essential Skills in reading, writing and math as graduation requirements. We appreciate the support of the Foundation as part of the “village” in helping us meet the varied learning needs of Corvallis Students” – Cherie Stroud, CVHS Principal

CVHS offered two Essential Skills Workshops designed to give seniors an opportunity to demonstrate proficiency in writing and math, a requirement for high school graduation. These workshops consisted of four days during which students could complete and submit work samples. Fourteen students finished successfully.

SUMMARY OF SUMMER PROGRAMS

Intervention	Program/Description	Number of Participants	Outcome
Summer Credit Recovery	Online courses offered to high school students	97	76 students earned 113.5 half credits

In total, the Corvallis Public Schools Foundation allocated $35,000 for graduation rate interventions this summer. Because not all funds were spent, there is carryover for use during the school year. This aligns well with the Foundation’s interest in supporting homework clubs, tutoring and other individual help throughout the school year. The Foundation is pleased to support AVID with a $5000 gift that will be divided between middle and high schools, and we look forward to providing ongoing funding for middle school tutoring with our new $50,000 math endowment, the Midge Mueller Fund.

VI.C. Muddy Creek Charter School Annual Report

Muddy Creek Charter School

Annual Report 2014-2015

October 5, 2015

The Muddy Creek Charter School Vision and Mission

Vision:

Muddy Creek Charter School is a rural public school dedicated to the integration of an outstanding academic program with its community – the land and its people. We offer a joyful and creative educational experience where engaged students practice the skills they will need to be effective citizens and stewards in the future. Muddy Creek Charter School will serve as a model for preserving schools in rural communities.

Mission:

Muddy Creek Charter School was founded to provide an outstanding K-5 public educational program for children who reside in and around the Muddy Creek Watershed. In multi-age classrooms, the school will deliver a place-based, project-based, integrated arts and science curriculum grounded in its rural agricultural setting and commitment to community service. Diverse learning styles will be fostered. MCCC will be supported in its efforts by forging and maintaining partnerships with local landowners and agencies, OSU researchers and the community at large. Our success will be our children. The students of MCCC will not only meet or surpass the state benchmarks but will also have a deeper understanding of their place in the world as demonstrated by portfolios of high quality projects, and they will be well prepared to transition into other schools for their continued education.

A. IntroductionBrief historical perspective

Muddy Creek Charter School opened its doors in September of 2008. As stated in the charter agreement, the mission of the school was to provide an excellent and innovative public educational program for children in grades K-5 in the Corvallis School District. It is aimed at, but not restricted to, children who reside in and around the Muddy Creek and Beaver Creek Watershed. Its place-based curriculum is founded in its rural agricultural setting and commitment to community service. Learning takes place through a combination of direct (traditional) and multidisciplinary, project-based instruction that also integrates art. MCCA is supported in its efforts by forging and maintaining partnerships with local landowners and agencies such as the Fresh Water Trust, OSU researchers and the community at large. The students of MCCA not only meet or surpass the state benchmarks but will also have a deeper understanding of their place in the world as measured by a portfolio of the student's best work, and prove themselves well prepared to transition into other schools in the Corvallis School District for their continued education.

B. Physical Description

The school has five classrooms - a half-time kindergarten, two first/second grade classrooms, a three/four classroom and a four/five classroom. Grades 1-5 received PE instruction three days a week and music instruction two days a week. The Kindergarten teacher facilitated her own PE and music instruction. Art, Special Education and counseling were additional instructional offerings. Each classroom had an assistant. The administration consists of an Executive Director, a Head Teacher, and an Administrative Assistant. There is a Financial Officer handling financial matters and technology issues. The District provides a quarter-time learning resource center teacher and assistant time to meet the needs of the learning handicapped. The Executive Director and Head Teacher are retired District staff working part time at a greatly reduced salary.

C. Academic DescriptionLiteracy

Our philosophy is to integrate phonics, skill development and whole language to promote a love of reading and opportunity to read chapter books. Instruction is based on Oregon's Common Core State Standards.

Literacy includes four areas: Reading, Writing, Speaking, Listening

All classrooms have:

- Many books of varying difficulty, both fiction and non-fiction
- Daily opportunities to practice writing in a variety of ways - creative, descriptive, etc.
- Regular practice to develop language, vocabulary and interpersonal skills by providing opportunities for students to speak publically in the classroom, at our weekly all-school assembly, and to people they do not know.

Literacy Instruction includes and is not limited to:

- Forty minutes per day of literacy groups
- Ten minutes of spelling, phonics or vocabulary development
- Thirty minutes of reading instruction at their ability level (guided reading)
- Children are read to for 10-15 minutes per day, stories, poems, etc.
- 30 minutes per day is designated for students to read independently; Independent reading practices include “Read to Self”, “Read to Someone” and/or DEAR (Drop Everything and Read)
- A read-at-home program is encouraged that emphasizes 15-30 minutes of reading at home per day

Classroom teachers create a year-long teaching plan that includes Literacy skills, strategies and topics to be taught.

Literacy is integrated into all subjects throughout the day – this is where our place-based and project-based learning plays so well.

Math

Our math program is comprised of Bridges for Grades 1-4 and Everyday Math for Grade 5. Bridges in Mathematics: Second Edition, is a comprehensive K-5 mathematics curriculum that helps teachers to fully implement the Common Core State Standards for Mathematics in a rigorous, coherent, and engaging way. The curriculum focuses on developing students’ deep understanding of mathematical concepts, proficiency with key skills and the ability to solve complex problems. They learn fluency of facts and how to use them in all problems. It is hands on, and develops a community of mathematicians. Our 4th grade is using Bridges and Everyday Math. Fifth grade uses Everyday Math, which is a progression of skills with group lessons and individual advancement. Students take pre and post tests and continue at their own pace along with group instruction. The two programs work well together and students leave Muddy Creek with a strong mathematical sense.

Science (includes place-based projects)

Project learning follows a two-year cycle of Science and Social Studies topics. Students engage with a topic, then question and investigate (conduct field work), and share what they have learned. Whenever possible, projects are investigated through the lens of the place where children live or where our school is located. The projects also give children an opportunity to apply literacy and math skills in an integrated context. Project times vary in length and type. Some projects last for a few weeks and others last up to three or four months. Certain projects are worked on intermittently and others, such as seasonal comparisons, will last the entire year. Examples of project themes include:

- Farm animals
- Birds/migration
- Water and weather
- Astronomy
- Wetlands
- U.S. History
- Economics
- Food chains
- Engineering

Classes also completed smaller focused studies based on student and teacher interest.

4-H Wildlife Stewards Summit Presentations (second through fifth grade)

We participated in the summit that was hosted by Muddy Creek this past year. Our students produced and presented posters of their investigations.

Science and History Place-based Projects

Restoring plant life in the Rock Creek watershed
Restore Project – study of wetlands impact upon plants and soils
Finley Wildlife Refuge – study of bird migration patterns
Raised-bed potato trials
Insects in Art, Reading, and the Muddy Creek watershed
Geology – rocks and land formations
Astronomy

Art Integration

- Kindergarten students studied and drew life-sized land mammals - they finished their creations by using fabric to create collage animals. To display these animals they painted their habitats.
- First and Second Graders studied the continents and oceans. They created and labeled paper mache globes using large sphere balloons.
- Third and Fourth Graders studied fossils. Using clay they created imprint and cast fossils.

Blue=(E) every year Gray=A years (e.g. 2015-16, 2017-18) Yellow= B years (e.g. 2016-17, 2018-19)

Created 8/25/2015. Updated 9/3/15

- Fourth and Fifth Graders wrote original poems for two voices (Author, Paul Fleischman) about insects. They used self-created papers, drawings, pages from old books, and maps and incorporated their poem in this collage.

Coach John Wooden's Pyramid of Success:

The Susan Kovalik Lifelong guidelines and LIFESKILLS:

Chapter 1—Behavior and Social Guidelines for School Communities

THE FIVE LIFELONG GUIDELINES

The principles for living are:

LIFELONG GUIDELINES

TRUSTWORTHINESS: To act in a manner that makes one worthy of trust and confidence

TRUTHFULNESS: To act with personal responsibility and mental accountability

ACTIVE LISTENING: To listen attentively and with intention to understand

NO PUT-DOWNS: To never use words, actions, and/or body language that degrade, humiliate, or dishonor others

PERSONAL BEST: To do one's best given the circumstances and available resources

Just imagine what a better place the world would be if every person would practice and live by these Lifelong Guidelines! It would be so easy if we could be like Jack in the Beanstalk and give each child five magic pills every morning—one for each Lifelong Guideline—and then watch the character traits grow. However, there is no magic ingredient here—just consistency and perseverance.

THE LIFESKILLS

The LIFESKILLS, listed on the next page, define the Lifelong Guideline of Personal Best. They do not stand alone. According to Susan Kovalik, the purpose of the LIFESKILLS is to “guide students, individually and in groups, to an understanding of the personal and social behaviors that will enable them to do their personal best, and thus enhance the likelihood that they will succeed in attaining their goals.”

DO THEY LOOK FAMILIAR?

As you read through the Lifelong Guidelines and LIFESKILLS, you may think, “These are the things my mom and dad were always reminding me of when I was growing up,” or “I’m doing some of this in my classroom already. The students definitely need to learn these skills for success in life. I just never realized how important it is to focus on them daily and in-depth.”

The Lifelong Guidelines and LIFESKILLS are also the answer to the question, “Who are the heroes in your life and what are the qualities about them that you admire?” Today, more than ever, students need heroes that demonstrate the qualities necessary for living a full and successful life, personally and as a contributing citizen.

LIFESKILLS

CARING: To feel and show concern for others

COMMON SENSE: To use good judgment

COOPERATION: To work together toward a common goal or purpose

COURAGE: To act according to one's beliefs despite fear of adverse consequences

CURIOSITY: A desire to investigate and seek understanding of one's world

EFFORT: To do your best

FLEXIBILITY: To be willing to alter plans when necessary

FRIENDSHIP: To make and keep a friend through mutual trust and caring

INITIATIVE: To do something, of one's own free will, because it needs to be done

INTEGRITY: To act according to a sense of what's right and wrong

ORGANIZATION: To plan, arrange, and implement in an orderly way; to keep things orderly and ready to use

PATIENCE: To wait calmly for someone or something

PERSEVERANCE: To keep at it

PRIDE: Satisfaction from doing one's personal best

PROBLEM SOLVING: To create solutions to difficult situations and everyday problems

RESOURCEFULNESS: To respond to challenges and opportunities in innovative and creative ways

RESPONSIBILITY: To respond when appropriate; to be accountable for one's actions

SENSE OF HUMOR: To laugh and be playful without harming others

Comments/questions/suggestions: I marked Science “less than satisfied” only because I haven’t heard/witnessed much/any science taught yet this year. Maybe scheduled for later in the year?

Also, outdoor education is something that really drew me to MCCS. I believe it is extremely important. I haven’t heard of or seen much of that yet this year.

I would also like to suggest more outdoor time and physical activity for kinders.

Our experience at Muddy Creek is nothing but positive. Such a great environment to learn. Keep up the good work 😊

I realize this probably isn’t very helpful, but I adore this school.

I wish there was more exposure to making music/instruments, etc.

I was really hoping my kinder would have more time outside. Both for free play & exploration for curriculum based learning.

My kinder loves coming to school – yay! Thank you 😊

My only concern is that I wish there was more specialized reading help. (Child’ name) isn’t reading at grade level – I wish during reading/literacy she could work one-on-one or in a small group with a reading specialist. Or even just a volunteer. We are working on it at home, but she doesn’t have much energy left by the end of the day.

I am so glad that you guys are open to new ideas like trying out the loose-play parts. I’m thankful _____ has great teachers. Small class size and ample time to work outside. She wants to be a scientist when she grows up – and Muddy Creek is fostering that passion.

Thanks for all you do to make MCCS such a rich learning environment for our kids!

Happy with music, wish there was more time for it.

We love Muddy Creek!! We aren’t in favor of increased emphasis on spelling and writing. The more music the better! Ms. Gorman is amazing, my son is lucky to have her as a teacher.

III. COMMITTEE/BOARD MEMBER ITEMS

A. Board Member Comments

B. Superintendent's Evaluation

Chair Rochester read aloud a summary of Dr. Prince's 2014-15 performance evaluation:

There is cognitive dissonance between how Corvallis thinks about the school district, and what the district really is. The real Corvallis School District (CSD) is much more diverse than most people realize. The real CSD has experienced a rapid increase in the number of students living in poverty and homelessness, exceeding 40% in low income and nearly 200 homeless by the 2014-15 school year. The real CSD includes dozens of languages and cultures other than English and American. The real CSD includes significant Latino and special education groups. Looked at horizon to horizon, the CSD manages a student population that is increasingly diverse, racially and economically, within a financial environment that shows no signs of significant improvement in the foreseeable future.

The school district that Dr. Prince received in July 2011 operated in a different way. There were 13 schools that operated independently. Resources were for the most part apportioned equally among them, educational decisions were decentralized, and the prevailing philosophy was that site-based authority led to optimal outcomes. The problem was that for too many students it led the other direction.

From the beginning of her tenure, Dr. Prince was determined to change this philosophy. Bringing her experience as a teacher and school district executive, her formidable intellect, her gift for strategic thinking, and her passion, she started to change the culture of the district. Drawing on her astute personnel management, her constitutional intolerance of complacency, and her willingness to take risks, she launched a plan to destabilize the district in order to move it forward. The changes that Dr. Prince began four years ago generated their most significant results this school year, and it is fair to say that this has been her most successful year.

In place of the previous philosophy of site-based decisions and equal site funding, Dr. Prince moved our schools toward educational alignment. She moved the district to equitable resource allocation. Resources went where most needed. She seized all available data and poured resources into targeted student by student support.

The results were encouraging. Almost all groups of students showed academic growth. The district made a breakthrough on high school graduation rates, which jumped from 72% to 84% (they had stalled at just 68% in 2010-11). Beyond numbers, there has been a cultural change in the district. Schools talk to each other; teachers and administrators reach across formerly impermeable boundaries. Instead of an archipelago of 13 isolated islands, the CSD is one district with 13 schools bridged together.

Here are five examples of Dr. Prince's leadership this year:

- Dr. Prince continued her determined effort to improve our special education program. This is never easy, but when she started four years ago, our special education program was a shambles. This year, she recognized the need for more expertise and brought in a strong professional special education manager.
- She organized a Latino community evening conducted entirely in Spanish, which was well attended and much appreciated.
- She demonstrated unfailing pragmatism as the leader of our labor negotiation teams, and achieved multi-year contracts with both associations.
- She showed courage when required to make unforeseen leadership changes at two schools.
- She moved educational equity to the top of the agenda.

Equity has always been a priority for Dr. Prince. Equity has framed every decision. But this year she began to take action to remove barriers to achievement, access, and participation. Some of our schools are much less diverse than others. Some of our schools have an extremely high concentration of poverty or affluence. One of our schools has no public transportation. Participation in extracurricular activities can be prevented by fees. Dr. Prince frames all of her decisions with the question, "Is this equitable?" Throughout this year, she has led district staff to think the same way. This work will continue next year. The point of this focus on equity is to remove barriers to student achievement. Some of these barriers are obvious; others are subtler.

Dr. Prince is moving the district in the right direction. Her ethical standards are exemplary. Her relationship with the board of directors is excellent. She somehow finds time and energy to be an eloquent advocate for education in state, regional, and national fora. The outstanding example of this advocacy was her vigorous lobbying to protect 5th year programs, which are a lifeline for many of our students, including a significant number of students who will be the first in their families to go to college.

For four years, Dr. Prince has combatted complacency in the district, transformed the governing and resource allocation structures, tirelessly advocated for fairness, for inclusion, and for never giving up on a single child. She has managed when management enough, and led when leadership was urgently required. She never avoided a difficult decision. She gives us the benefit of a distinguished intellect, compassion, and vision over the horizon of circumstance and habit.

The Corvallis School District has made progress during Dr. Prince's four years. Compared to 2011, the CSD is more dynamic, more effective in matching resources with needs, more realistic about its deficiencies, and less tolerant of mediocre outcomes.

There remains much to do. We have groups of students whose achievement is unsatisfactory. Our English language learners require us to innovate. Special Education is better but not satisfactory. Our schools are too divided economically and socially. Our facilities are aging. We also must contend with external costs and complications. Our 5th year program is vulnerable. Common Core standards and the Smarter Balanced Assessment – in fact, standards, accountability, and assessment of any kind – have been politicized. The pressure of demographics on public budgets will become increasingly severe. The Oregon tax structure virtually guarantees that our resources will continue to fall far short of our educational needs. A school district imports what is best and worst in American society, but it cannot make excuses for unacceptable educational results.

Dr. Prince will, we have no doubt, lead the Corvallis School District through and beyond these complexities. Thank you for your dedication to our 790 employees and our 6,600 students, and for a job very well done in 2014-15.

IV. SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

A. Update on the Beginning of the School Year

Dr. Prince offered highlights from the beginning of the new academic year.

V. STAFF AND PUBLIC TESTIMONY

Lisa Pierson, 2397 NW Kings Boulevard, Corvallis, said there aren't enough counselors in the district and the relatively small number of contract days counselors are allowed to work is detrimental to student welfare. She said this is the only district she knows of in which counselors leave on the last day of school and don't return until the first day of school; when a counselor is absent, there is no way for someone to substitute for him/her. She opined that counselors are overloaded and that they are the hardest working people in the school district. Additionally, Ms. Pierson criticized the duration of time allotted per person for public testimony at board meetings, saying that it is not a very parent friendly way of interacting with those who have an interest in the way the district runs.

VI. ENROLLMENT UPDATE

Finance and Operations Director Olivia Meyers Buch led a brief review of a summary report regarding the first day of school enrollment. She pointed out that enrollment numbers continue to change. Ms. Meyers Buch and Dr. Prince responded to questions from board members.

VII. RESOLUTION NO. 15-0901 SUPPLEMENTAL BUDGET (LESS THAN 10%) FOR FUND 100 – GENERAL FUND – INCREASE APPROPRIATIONS FOR INSTRUCTION AND SUPPORT SERVICES

Chair Rochester offered a few introductory remarks, including:

- Dr. Prince and I started talking last school year about possible ways to give additional administrative support to Lincoln and Garfield Elementary Schools.
- As board members visited these schools we became increasingly aware that these schools are more complex.
- It's an equity issue in large part to give targeted administrative support to the Lincoln and Garfield principals so they can do what they do best: be educational leaders.
- We are not assuming that this'll become perennial or permanent but we feel it's important to give additional support to these two schools as soon as possible.

Ms. Meyers Buch led review of the resolution and noted that Lincoln and Garfield, which are dual language immersion schools, experience a different set of operational challenges than a typical elementary school. Targeted areas for the additional funding include behavior support, technology support, assessment and testing support, and communication support.

Chair Rochester pointed out that the targeted areas for support were identified as the highest priorities from the schools' principals. He stressed that he doesn't want to imply that our other schools are easy to run or that they run themselves but we are trying to put resources where they are most needed.

MOTION:

It was moved by Vice Chair Sauret and seconded by Director Ball to approve Resolution 15-0901 to increase resources and expenditure appropriations, in Fund 100 – General Fund in accordance with ORS 294.471. The motion was voted on and unanimously approved.

VIII. PRELIMINARY COMMUNICATION PLAN FOR 509J

Communications Coordinator Brenda Downum-VanDevelder gave a PowerPoint presentation and led review of the preliminary communications plan. (Both documents will be filed with the minutes of this meeting.)

Topics covered included:

- 2015-16 Goals.
- Target Audience.
- Key Messages.
- 2015-16 Projects: Outreach; Visual Identity; and, Internal Communications.
- Current Communication Channels.
- 2015-16 Evaluation Metrics.

Board member comments included:

- Make sure we don't miss some of the families who don't have access to electronics, as well as those people who only have smart phone access.
- I was happy to see this plan. It's basic, working on infrastructure, it's achievable and you're leveraging strengths.
- We want to get out into schools to hold some of our meetings.
- I'm glad to see the templates and common structures for web sites.
- We don't want your job description to default to web site manager but we will do all we can to improve our websites at the district and all of our schools.
- Templates are not magic bullets but they help; they are for our customers.
- I'm glad you're doing the work you are on websites; I heard from the community that one of the schools has rolled out a new website but with old information.

IX. SELECTION OF INTERIM SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER

A. Applicant Presentations

There were five applicants for one interim board member position: Max Ahmad, Jim McCullough, Josh Fryman, Sami Al-AbdRabbuh, and Scott Newsham. Each applicant had five minutes to present answers to questions they had received prior to the meeting.

B. Board Deliberation and Vote

Chair Rochester noted that by law the board must deliberate and vote in the public meeting. Board members narrowed their selections until two candidates remained for consideration: Jim McCullough and Scott Newsham. Board members asked questions of the finalists, then held their final discussion regarding the merits of the applicants.

MOTION:

It was moved by Vice Chair Sauret and seconded by Director Kemper that Scott Newsham be appointed to vacant position #6 of the Corvallis School District Board of Directors, effective after the end of the September 14, 2015 meeting through June 30, 2017. The motion was voted on and passed unanimously.

IX.B. Unaudited Financial Statements - August 31, 2015

FOR INFORMATION

BOARD MEETING DATE: October 5, 2015

SUBJECT: August 31, 2015 Financial Statements (Unaudited)

The Statement of Revenues and Expenditures for the period ending August 31, 2014 and 2015 follow this report. Year to date revenues through the end of August 2015 total $7.6 million or 12.6% of total budgeted revenue as compared to $6.9 million or 12.3% through the end of August 2014.

General Fund expenditures through August 2015 are up $0.5 million as compared to the prior year. The bulk of the increase has come in the form of maintenance costs ($118,327); summer transportation ($87,568); software ($46,932); and liability insurance ($47,500). The District also issued a lump sum payment to the Corvallis Public Schools Foundation instead of monthly payments as had done in prior years. Contracted payroll increases account for the majority of the balance of increase.

The beginning fund balance reflects an increase of $2.9 million over the planned budget of $5.4 million. A small portion of the difference ($252,268) was appropriated by the board on September 14, 2015; the remainder will be appropriated at a future board meeting. Overall, actual revenues in 2014-2015 were 104.4% of budget while actual expenditures were 99.8% of budget. A significant portion of the additional revenue was due to an increase in state school fund receipts.

2014-15 financial records are in process of being closed and staff are preparing schedules in anticipation of the annual fall visit from the auditors. The auditors are scheduled to begin fieldwork on October 21st. Please contact me with questions or if you would like additional information.

	2. Schedule of Investments as of August 31, 2015
