 - This proficient level course picks up where Art Foundations leaves off. This is an introductory design and fabrication course in the functional art/craft of jewelry making. Metals are the dominant media: cutting, soldering, forging and forming are the basic processes. This course uses materials and tools that require mature and responsible handling. The small scale of jewelry work requires dexterity, self-discipline and attention to details. Each unit consists of Research, Design Development, Construction and Reflection. This course is highly recommended for students interested in developing a jewelry portfolio for AP Studio Art or pursuing a career in Metals, Design, Fashion or Marketing.
- Course Description Change Jewelry Design 2 This Accomplished Level course picks up where Jewelry Design 1 leaves off. Students will learn more advanced traditional jewelry techniques including metal etching and stone setting. They will also explore more contemporary techniques including metal clay, use of non-traditional materials and 3D printing. Students will have the chance to work with precious metals as they bring their own jewelry forms to life. This course will focus on advancing technical skill and developing each student's artistic voice as they create a professional collection of their own jewelry pieces. With a deeper focus on concept, this course serves as a bridge between Jewelry I and Pre-AP Art where students create individual portfolios of work. Each unit consists of Research, Design Development, Construction and Reflection. This course is highly recommended for students interested in developing a jewelry portfolio for AP Studio Art or pursuing a career in Metals, Design, Fashion or Marketing.
