Background Information:

The district is experiencing extreme difficulty in hiring secondary mathematics teachers. The problem was brought to the Board's attention at the regular meeting. At that time, the administration committed to formulating a proposal to address the problem, gathering input from the staff, and to bringing a proposed solution to the Board. The attached information was presented to all staff members at meetings on Monday, May 23 through Wednesday, May 25. The Executive Team will update the Board on staff input at the meeting.

Based on information gathered from other districts, the following proposal is offered:

A critical needs stipend for secondary mathematics teachers (grades 7-12) is proposed. The amount of the stipend will be $700 per period of mathematics class(es) taught. For example, a teacher who teaches a full load (six periods) of mathematics classes will receive $4,200 ($700 times six periods). A teacher with five periods of mathematics and one period of another subject (science, coaching, etc.) will receive $3,500 ($700 times five periods), and so on.

In addition to the teaching stipend, a "signing bonus" of $1,000 is proposed. The bonus would be paid to new teachers for the first year of teaching, in addition to the critical needs stipend. Thus, a secondary mathematics teacher coming to the LVISD from another district could potentially be paid a $1,000 signing bonus plus up to $4,200 as a critical needs stipend, for a total of $5,200 the first year.

Fiscal Implication:

The district has 10 secondary mathematics teachers (not all have six assignments), and there are currently four vacancies. The maximum stipend cost would be $42,000, and the estimated signing bonus cost would be $4,000, assuming no more resignations take place. Thus, the maximum total cost would be $46,000.

Administrative Recommendation:

It is recommended that the Board approve a critical needs supplement of $700 per period for secondary mathematics (grades 7 - 12), and a $1,000 signing bonus for secondary mathematics teachers.

Secondary Mathematics Stipend Proposal

The Original Problem: Some years ago, the district began to experience problems recruiting and retaining teachers in Bilingual/ESL and certain Special Education assignments. Specifically, the district experienced the following difficulties:

- Few if any qualified applicants were available to be interviewed.
- Recruiting efforts by the district were not successful.
- Competing districts offered incentives in these areas, making both recruitment and retention more difficult.

The Response to the Original Problem: The administration analyzed the problem and formulated a feasible solution, and presented it to the Board of Trustees. The Board approved the solution, and the following steps were implemented:

- Stipends were paid to existing staff members in the problem areas.
- Stipends were offered to prospective staff members in the problem areas.

The Current Problem: The original problem has now expanded to include secondary mathematics. The same conditions that occurred originally have happened in this area.

- There are fewer qualified applicants than there are teaching vacancies in the area of mathematics at this time.
- Competing districts have begun to offer annual stipends as high as $4,000. As a result, the district has lost several experienced teachers to these districts.
- In spite of significant recruiting efforts, the applicant pool for mathematics teachers is still insufficient.
- The district's secondary mathematics scores are a major concern. Highly qualified, experienced teachers are a must.

The Proposed Solution: The administration will be recommending that stipends be paid to all current and future secondary mathematics teachers. Major features of this recommendation are:

- The stipend will be paid to mathematics teachers in grades 7 – 12.
- The stipend will be prorated according to the number of mathematics assignments taught by the teacher; for example, if a teacher teaches four math classes out of six possible assignments, he or she would be paid two-thirds of the total stipend.
- The stipend will be competitive with other area districts; the exact amount will be set by the Board of Trustees.
